“ Lee was my favorite resident. I got to work with her for years and even saw her after working at Sholom since my great grandma was on the same floor. I would always visit Lee and she always had a smile on her face. She was the most positive, friendly person despite her hardships in life. I wish I knew where she rests so I could still visit her and bring her flowers. It was tough saying goodbye to such a musical, spirited woman, but I will always remember her. She left a lasting impression on my heart. If anyone knows where we can visit Lee, please contact me at alisa.smirnova@yahoo.com

“ Although I had not seen Lee for many Years I remember her as a very nice soft - spoken lady with whom I always enjoyed talking. She had a certain quiet grace that I am sure many appreciated. It was probably a natural for Lee for her parents Meyer and Gertrude were people who always made me feel right at home.

These memories start in the early 1950's when I first met Lee and many in her family. My sincere sympathy and condolences are expressed to her children that I do not know, and also to Lee's brother, Mark and sister-in-law Francie.

The memories of Lee will be bright for those of us who knew her.
